

Feedback Policy

Commitment

Illohra Projects and Illohra Living are committed to providing and maintaining quality Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA). Feedback is one way we can reflect on what we do and improve. The purpose of this policy is to:

- provide an environment of respect and open communication
- manage all feedback in a consistent, fair, and timely way
- outline roles and responsibilities
- reach satisfactory outcomes
- meet legislative and requirements
- use feedback to improve.

Scope

This policy relates to everyone working with Illohra Projects and Illohra Living, including Supported Independent Living (SIL) providers and contractors who interact with residents. This policy also applies to applicants, residents, their families and visitors.

Definitions

The following definitions are relevant to this policy:

Acknowledge is to validate the person's feelings.

Apology is saying sorry.

Complaint is a statement that something is not ok, where a response is expected. It can be verbal or written.

Compliment is expression of praise, encouragement or gratitude.

Concern is something that is of importance to someone or may cause them anxiety.

Feedback is information from someone about their experience. It includes concerns, complaints, compliments and suggestions.

Issue resolution is the agreed way to resolve complaints, disputes or matters of concern

Mediation is where a neutral party tries to bring about a positive resolution or compromise.

Natural justice is making sure decision-making is fair and reasonable. It involves decision-makers informing people of a complaint that involves them, hearing their story, not having a personal interest in the outcome, and acting on evidence and logic.

Notifiable concern or complaint is one that requires government be notified by law.

Suggestion is an improvement idea for consideration.

Vexatious claim is pursued to harass, annoy or cause issues.

Feedback

We welcome feedback to grow and improve. Feedback can be verbal or written. We may also survey people to get feedback.

While compliments are nice and easy, it is also ok to raise a concern or make a complaint. This is important, as it helps us learn and improve. No one will be treated differently because of a complaint. Everyone involved will be treated with respect, and confidentiality will be maintained.

All staff have the responsibility to document feedback. Information relating to feedback will be documented and stored securely. Details relating to concerns or complaints will be treated confidentially. If someone wishes to offer compliments or suggestions anonymously their confidentiality will also be respected.

Where possible, feedback will be managed directly by staff. Managers will review feedback and act if necessary.

Compliments

Staff will:

- listen and acknowledge
- thank the person
- indicate how the feedback will be shared (if applicable)
- document compliment, actions and outcomes
- share the compliment accordingly.

Ideas and suggestions

Staff will:

- listen and acknowledge
- thank the person
- indicate how their feedback will be incorporated or shared (if possible)
- document suggestion, actions and outcomes
- share feedback or make changes if appropriate.

Concerns or complaints

Staff will:

- listen and acknowledge.
- thank the person for for following up
- apologise that the person feels they have not had a positive experience.
- assess whether the matter is notifiable and act accordingly
- explain the process
- make sure people know they can have a support person or advocate
- explain the circumstances without making excuses (if applicable)
- explain the issue resolution process and timeframe
- work towards an appropriate resolution using natural justice principles
- apologise if required, ensuring this is sincere, succinct and specific
- notify the person of what they can do if they are still not satisfied

- document feedback, actions and outcomes
- provide regular updates to the person if the resolution is delayed
- store details securely
- close out complaint or refer on as appropriate
- follow up with the person to determine the effectiveness of the outcome where appropriate.

Maintaining your information

In line with our Privacy Policy, privacy of personal information is maintained and information is stored securely. Confidentiality must be maintained by everyone involved in a complaint process.

Responsibilities

Residents, families and advocates are responsible for:

- communicating concerns as soon as possible
- trying to resolve a complaint by speaking respectfully with the person involved
- raising any unresolved matters with a manager
- being respectful if someone wants to discuss feedback
- maintaining confidentiality
- cooperating with requests to meet or provide relevant information when requested in relation to complaints
- not make vexatious claims.

Staff are responsible for:

- working in line with this policy
- ensuring that people understand their rights, and their right to an independent support person or advocate if they choose
- promoting open communication and learning from feedback
- being respectful if someone wants to discuss feedback
- listening, acknowledging and responding to feedback
- focusing on positive solutions
- respecting independence and choice
- documenting feedback
- sharing constructive feedback
- maintaining confidentiality
- following up with management when required.

Managers are responsible for:

- engaging all stakeholders
- considering feedback in policy, planning and practice
- monitoring to ensure this policy is implemented

- ensuring staff understand policies and participate in related training
- identifying and addressing potential concerns before they become an issue
- responding to any concerns that cannot be managed at a staff level.

The Managing Director is responsible for:

- ensuring the feedback process is accessible
- acting on breaches of policy within seven days of identification, or immediately if there is any identified risk
- ensuring all feedback is responded to in a timely manner, and an agreed dispute resolution process followed
- attempting mediation if required
- responding to media enquiries.

SIL providers are responsible for:

- working in line with this policy in the context of the collaboration agreement
- managing feedback relating to the SIL, and referring feedback relating to Illowra Projects/Illowra Living.
